Kira is a native Spanish speaker and is fully fluent in English and has been living and working in Ireland for 7 years. She is currently studying Full Stack Web Development Diploma with The Code Institute.

As a creative person who enjoys solving problems and figuring out challenges constantly. This passion for new challenges has taken her to a new discovery: The World of Coding.

She began this new quest in January, 2017 and she is now starting her first project using: HTML, CSS and JavaScript. This project is the beginning of a career change from being in the Education environment for more than 7 years to being part of IT and Web design.

She is looking for a position with an exciting and ambitious company to help develop her coding skills.

Please feel free to check out her first Website as it continues to improve (working on media queries at the moment):

Private Spanish teacher and Nanny, Private Family

June 2015 - June 2016

Connecticut, USA

I minded 2 girls of a young age. The family was based in Ireland but after few months they had to move to USA and I helped them to set up their new lives there relocating to the USA with the family to support this transition period.

Teacher, Spanish teacher to English Speakers

November 2013 - November 2013

Cherrywood

I offered one-to-one Spanish lessons to English speakers

Team Leader and ECCE teacher, The Park Academy

September 2013 - June 2015

Dublin 18

I began as a childcare practitioner in the toddler room and within 9 months I was promoted as a team leader of the after-school room.

I worked as a guide of a team of 5 teachers and I was responsible of 50+ children on daily basis. Planning, organisation and communication were key skills in this job. In any challenging situations I really enjoyed finding the root of the problem as well as solving it. This created a stress-free work place and enabled me to always be ready for the next challenge.

Volunteer, Faylinn Childcare

January 2012 - January 2012

Wexford, Ireland

I was working as a volunteer teaching children in a Montessori environment supporting special needs requirements.
